THE MARKET NARROW

Fluctuations in Wall Street Confined to 3-4 Per Cent.

Bank Surplus Reserve Falls to $85,633,-650 and Money at 1 Per Cent-Local Grain Inactive.

At New York, Saturday, money on call was easy at 1 per cent.

Prime mercantile paper, 31/2/351/2 per cent. Sterling exchange steady, with actual business in bankers' bills at $4.861/201.86% for demand and at $4.84 \@4.84% for sixty days; posted rates, $4.85@4.88; commercial bills, $4.83% @4.84.

Silver certificates, 64%@65%c. New York bar silver closed at 64%c per ounce. Silver certificates have lost 2c on the week, following the break in the London market.

The banks now hold $85,633,650 in excess of the requirements of the 25 per cent. rule. Total sales of stocks Saturday amounted to only 45,700 shares. The share speculation during the hours which the exchange was opened for business dragged along slowly without a single feature of interest. The market was, perhaps, the narrowest on record, the fluctuations being confined within a range of % per cent., except in the case of St. Paul, Minneapolis & Manitoba, which declined 1% per cent. The grangers moved within a radius of ½ per cent., St.

Paul closing at Friday's price, Burlington & Quincy moving up ½ and Northwest and Rock Island declining ½ and ¼, respectively. St. Paul was bought at the opening, in anticipation of a better showing for the first week of February than for any previous week in some months, but when the figures were published, showing a decrease of only $3,451, compared with the same week of 1893, the announcement seemed to give no strength to the shares, which actually sold off a small fraction. As a matter of fact, the first week of February last year was so stormy and filled in with snow that traffic was unusually light. The statement of the company is, therefore, not so favorable as would appear on the surface. Of the industrials Sugar was the only even moderately active stock, but it kept within the % per cent limit of fluctuation, clos-ing % higher than on Friday. General Electric shows an advance of % and Chicago Gas ½, while Distilling declined % per cent. Chicago advices that Mayor Hopkins will veto the resolution in favor of the Common Council granting a franchise to a new gas company gave temporary strength to Chicago Gas, but did not insure many new investments. The situation relative to the tariff and revenue bill restricts the dealings in those industrials which will be affected by the measure. The reports from Washington are so conflicting that operators are puzzled, and nobody seems to be certain of the outcome. The bank statement made no impression on the speculative fraternity, the decrease in the reserve being expected by reason of the heavy subscriptions to the new government loans from this city, and the other changes being mainly the result of operations in connection with the loan. The stock market at the close was firm as could be on such a light volume of business. The entire week has been one of dullness in the share speculation, and very few changes of importance have been effected. The only advances of 2 per cent, and over are in Delaware, Lackawanna & Western,

Nashville & St. Louis, 44; Iowa Central, preferred, 24; Denver & Rio Grande, preferred, 24, and Cordage, preferred and Cotton Oil, preferred, 2 per cent. The railway and miscellaneous bond market was dull but generally firm, St. Paul, Minneapolis & Manitoba, Montana Central fives advancing 2, and Kansas Pacific consols and Northwest coupon gold sevens 1 31/2, and Evansville & Terre Haute, 2 per cent. The chief declines are Louisville, Government bonds were firm. State bonds The following table, prepared by James E. Berry, Room 16, Board of Trade, shows the range of quotations: Open- High- Low- Clos-

Henry Clews & Co., of New York, furnish the following review of last week's financial

"During the past week Wall street has shown little change from the late duliness coupled with steadiness of prices. Almost the only stocks that have shown any activity are the industrials. They are the only ones that have directly sympathized with the passage of the tariff bill in the House of Representatives, and, somewhat singularly, the changes in their value have been upward; that, however, may be due to their having been oversold in advance of the action of the House. "The completion of the government loan has produced a more settled feeling, although owing to the political opposition to the negotiations fomented in Washington, the operation was robbed of the eciat of a large surplus of offers and high premiums. yet it is on all sides regarded as having had a most beneficial effect. It settles many harassing doubts connected with possible objectionable ways of getting the money; the introduction of the silver question into the operation has been obviated; the coin reserve of the Treasury has been restored to about its former strength, and the working balance of the government has been increased. As doubts overhanging the finances of a government always have a widely-disturbing effect, the settlement of the misgivings in this case is a matter of much congratulation. Moreover, it is a boon to the banks that so large an amount of their unwieldy cash balances has been transferred to where the money properly belongs. The result is a more normal distribution of the currency, and the period is brought so much nearer when the banks may hope for a moderate rate of interest on their loans. To some extent, opinion inclines to the expectation that the Secretary of the Treasury may have to borrow a still further amount to make up for his deficiencies of revenue; but Mr. Carlisle appears to entertain little doubt that he can meet all the requirements of the current fiscal year without trenching on his gold reserve; the latter hope, however, may depend very of gold is exported during the interval, for | @1.20. in that case the banks would be likely to not be said that such a movement is now within sight, aithough there is now an exceptionally light supply of export bills; but a worse contingency than an export of ten to fifteen millions of the yellow metal might happen. On the one hand it would relieve the banks of their inordinate glut of money; on the other it would cheapen money in London and on the continent, and thereby induce activity on the bourses, with the possibility of causing a demand for American securities, which is the kind of stimulus Wall street is now thirsting for. There are welcome symptoms of revival of British trade; welcome because recovery there would help recovery here. England's imports for January show an increase over those of a year previous, amounting to £5,330,000, or at the rate of 16 per cent; and although the exports of home produce show a gain of only £150,000, yet the large gains in imports implies than an improvement in the export markets is anticipated. This is the first hopeful symptom that England has exhibited for a long time, virtually since the Baring troubles, and it is suggestive of the beginnings of a turn in the universal depression of trade. "In this country business still shows evidences of a slow improvement. There is some abatement of the resumption of work by long idle factories and iron works; but that is not remarkable after such a marked renewal of production as occurred last month. The depression remains greatest in the Western, Middle and Eastern States, while in the far West, Southwest and South it is much milder. From the latter sections there is a fair aggregate demand for goods, though it comes in a thin continuous stream rather than in active bounds, and therefore makes little show. Taking the trade of January as a whole, however, it shows a fair improvement, both in tone and volume, on that of the previous six months. The manufacturers are waiting for final action on the tariff. From such indications as the Senate affords it seems likely that no serious obstruction will arise to the passage of the bill in a modified form, and a month or six weeks may possibly find it on the statute book. Before that firality, however, the duties on a wide range of articles will be regarded as so far certain as to admit of giving orders for them, and in that way a steady increase of business may be expected. "Although the silver storm exhausted itself in India's suspension of free coinage and the repeal of the Sherman act, its after-mutterings are still heard in various quarters. The further large decline in bullion has reawakened the bimetallists, whilst it has strengthened the conviction of the advocates of the gold standard that the restoration of silver is less likely. Mr. Bland offers a new set of nostrums, the London supporters of the double standard are sounding the alarm and Boston is mustering its small but brave band of silverites abated, even in the interests connected with the trade of India, and affairs have now become so adjusted to the new conditions that the late shadow on the future may be said to have almost disappeared. In this country the silver faction has been so effectually scotched that whilst it may continue to annoy, it can do little actual harm to confidence. Upon the whole, therefore, financial conditions seem to be working into a sounder and more settled shape and the factors are beginning to disappear which have contributed to the depression which has befallen all countries.'

LOCAL GRAIN AND PRODUCE.

Trade of the Week Disappointing with Few Changes in Values. The trade of the week closing with Saturday did not come up to the expectations of the wholesale men, or at least most of them. Monday was one of the busiest days since New Year's, but Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, on the wholesale streets, were dull, improving somewhat on Friday. Wholesale grocers are really the only merchants who seem satisfied with business. With dry-goods houses more was doing than in the week ending Feb. 3. It is very difficult to get the retail merchants to stock up ahead any, they having an idea that dry goods will be no higher, and possibly may decline in price. On Commission row more was doing than in any week since the holidays. The slight revival in business with the manufacturers in the gas belt and other manufacturing centers is helping the retail merchants at such points, and in turn they are ordering more goods, but not by any means the quantities of the corresponding period in either of the last three years. Vegeta-bles are in good supply and selling low. Oranges are firmer and an advance is in prospect. California oranges are on the market, but sell 50 cents higher per box than Florida grown. But few green apples are on the market. Reports from the East denote a firm, steady poultry and egg market. Provisions continue to move in a jobbing way very satisfactorily. Druggists are having a fair trade in the last ten days, the demand for paints, oils, etc., having The local grain market is dull. If you must use powder and it won't stick on, try this: Get an ounce or two of cocoa butter-it costs about ten cents an ounce and looks like tallow. Rub it on your face briskly until the skin is well greased. Take a soft linen cloth and rub the butter off-and you will wonder where all the dirt came from-then repeat the process, this time rubbing the skin well after applying the butter. Again rub the face with the cloth and apply it vigorously. After that rub on the powder and your skin will feel like satin. You can use it on Cont and Coke.

WHEAT TOUCHED 60C

No Bottom to Chicago Grain Market When Once Started.

The May Future Regained 3-8c of the Loss, but with That Closed at Another Low Record Mark.

CHICAGO, Feb. 10.-May wheat sold to 60c to-day, a new low price record, and closed with a loss of %c, at 60%c. After a steady opening on the cold weather and larger exports, a loss of 1c was caused by free liquidation and pressure to sell. A reaction of 4c ensued on covering by shorts, followed by a decline at the close on more selling. May corn closed %c lower; May oats, 4c lower, and provisions with but

Wheat started higher, with May 1/6c up, at 60%c. The cold weather gave the bulls some encouragement, as did also the larger export clearances, and they soon had May up to 61c. Renewed pressure to sell, presumably on account of the expectation that the next visible supply statement will show an increase, started a decline, however, and May went down with a rush, landing at 60c. The market seems to have acquired the habit of making new price records, and the astonishing price created but little excitement, and no panicky indications followed. It had been expected that a decline to 60c would develop another demoralizing bunch of stop-loss orders, but the orders did not materialize. This somewhat alarmed the shorts, and they proceeded to cover, with the result that May reacted %c and held steady for a time at 60%c. Northwestern receipts were again, however, numbered among the bearish influences, Minneapolis and Duluth reporting a total of 496 cars, compared with 167 on the corresponding day last year. Liverpool advices also were rather bearish, and as the session neared Corn was quiet most of the session. an uneasy, unsettled feeling permeated the market. Price changes were governed largely by the action of wheat, and the decline was due entirely to the action of that cereal. Opening trades showed a fractional loss, but that was soon recovered when offerings increased, and prices sagged down 140%c, rallied 160%c, declined 140%c, and closed with May but 16c above the day's bottom figures. Oats were easier in sympathy with wheat, and on moderate selling by longs prices receded 4c and closed easy, after opening unchanged. There was moderate buying early, but later buyers appeared to have been filled up, and May finished at Provisions opened strong and higher on estimated light receipts of live hogs for next week and good bidding, prices advancing moderately. The offerings of all kinds of products were very light, and the trade correspondingly so. There was an effort on the part of some of the local operators to advance values, but the continued weakness in wheat had the contrary effect. Some support was given to the market by two or three leading packing institutions, prices advancing for a time, with only slight reactions. The improvement in wheat from the lowest price on record also contributed to the strength in this market. Later on it declined to nearly the inside prices of the day on increased offerings and the withdrawal of the previous support, with the closing weak, most of the early advance being lost. Compared with last night, May pork is 5c higher, May lard .021/2c lower and May ribs

Estimated receipts for Monday are: Wheat, 78 cars; corn, 600 cars; oats, 203 cars; hogs, 24,000.

There will be no session of the Board of Trade Monday, being a legal holiday in Illinois—birthday of Abraham Lincoln.

TRADE IN GENERAL.

Quotations at St. Louis, Philadelphia.

Baltimore and Other Points. MINNEAPOLIS, Feb. 10.-It is not likely that country elevators will show very much change in stocks of wheat when the reports are made out Monday. The supplies in this city will show some increase, estimated at about 200,000 bu in public and private storage. The mills have been grind-ing steadily, and have probably increased the output above last week, but not to a very large extent; May opened at 57%c and closed at 56%c, after selling at 56%c, the lowest point of the day and the lowest point ever reached here by May. July opened at 59%@59½c and closed at 58%c, after selling at 58%c. The sales of cash wheat to-day ranged from 59¼c to 60c for No. 1 hard, from 57¼c to 58c for No. 1 Northern, and from 56c to 56½c for No. 2. Track wheat closed: No. 1 hard, 59½c; No. 1 Northern, 57¼c: No. 2 Northern, 55%c. The 1 Northern, 571/2c; No. 2 Northern, 55%c. The flour market was very dull, but reported sales were about equal to the amount manufactured, so that it is propable there was no increase in the amount on hand. Millers are still asking near the same price as they were before the last decline in wheat, but it is reported that some decline was accepted. In many instances the general range of asking prices for first patents was from $3.25 to $3.60, while the bulk of he sales were at medium prices between. Bakers ranged from $1.65 to $1.85 for fine grades. Low grades are in many instances run in with the feed, as the prices of the latter commodity are comparatively high. The daily output of the mills grinding today it is supposed will be somewhere near 20,500 brls. Bran advanced during the week to $11, but the high prices checked business, but the production is well provided for by sales previously made. Some lots sold for $10.75 in cars for shipment. ST. NEW YORK. Feb. 10.-The week closes in the dry-goods market in less favorable form than it opened. The last forty-eight hours of unfavorable weather has interfered with the course of trade, and the volume of the week's business is but moderate and prices have not materially improved. There is a fair amount of mail order business.

The jobbing trade is cautious and altogether less active without change in prices. Metals. NEW YORK, Feb. 10 .- Pig iron dull;
